

Wallace Out of Campaign

Believes He Cannot In Conscience Support Democrats Who Repudiated Him

By Sterling F. Green
WASHINGTON, Sept. 21—(AP)—Henry A. Wallace definitely has decided not to give active aid to the Democratic party in November's congressional elections, intimate friends said today, but that is about the only certain thing in his plans.

The ousted secretary of commerce, secluded on his first day as a private citizen, was reported undecided whether to take the stump against current American foreign policy before the Paris peace conference ends.

But, his friends said, Wallace now is firmly convinced that he cannot take part in the political campaign despite his potential influence in keeping the "new deal" and left-wing elements of the party in the Truman fold.

Cannot Support Democrats
The loudest-headed antagonist of Secretary of State Byrnes believes that the ballot contest for control or congress hinges on foreign policy, it was stated, and that he cannot in conscience support the Democrats since President Truman, head of the party, has repudiated his views and given full support to the tougher Russian policy of Secretary Byrnes.

Rep. Sparkman (D-Ala.), chairman of the Democratic National Committee's Speakers Bureau, made that decision the next thing to unanimous today by making clear that whatever speaking Wallace does now will be on his own. Previously Wallace had been scheduled for an ambitious swing through areas where his influence might do the party the most good.

Robert Hannegan, Democratic national chairman, called on the President during the day and while he left the White House without seeing reporters, the conference presumably concerned the Wallace matter.

"I can't conceive of those two getting together and not discussing it," said one Democratic source.

Sparkman's actual words to a reporter applied to Senator Pepper (D-Fla.), an even more bitter critic than Wallace of the present foreign policy, but both men were under discussion.

Will Not Sponsor Pepper
"We are trying to elect Democratic congressmen," the Alabama said. "We don't want to send out anyone as a speaker who is going to call Secretary Byrnes a reactionary or say he is all wet, or anyone who is going to urge independent voters to stay home."

Sparkman said he would have no personal objection to Pepper's accepting invitations from individual candidates to speak in their districts, but he will not be sponsored by the committee.

Sparkman's comments on Pepper were occasioned by Pepper's speech before the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen in Miami, which Sparkman interpreted as advocating that independents cross party lines to attain the ends sought by the senator and by labor.

Suffering from a cold, Wallace, ostensibly was "out of the city" today. His undersecretary, Alfred Schindler, flew here hurriedly from San Francisco to become acting head of the sprawling commerce department, and speculation flourished over the choice of a permanent successor.

No Personal Feelings

Schindler is willing to stay in the commerce department "as long as he (President Truman) wants me," he told reporters in Chicago during a halt in the flight. Schindler revealed that he will see Mr. Truman Monday.

Wallace and Mr. Truman, said the former St. Louis businessman, are "two great leaders who agree on the same objectives but disagree on ways of obtaining those objectives. I feel sure it wasn't a case of personal or political feelings."

Some of Wallace's personal appointments planned to offer their resignations. These included Harold Young, solicitor for the department and high in Wallace's councils, Bruce Catton, director of information, and perhaps half a dozen advisers.

The effect of the upheaval of the fortunes of the Democratic party was yet uncertain, and friends said one thing Wallace was considering was the crisis in his own political career. Some suggested that his decision might depend on how solidly the CIO Political Action Committee throws its strength behind the Democrats.

Two Children Die Of Infantile Paralysis

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 21—(AP)—Two children died today of infantile paralysis at St. Luke's children hospital. They were Birthanna Minter, 3, of near north Kansas City and Billy Rickart, 7, of Birmingham, Mo.

Seven additional polio patients were reported today at Kansas City hospitals. One of them, James Thompson, 14, of Mosby, Mo., was said to be in a critical condition.

Wage Control Board Remains

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21—(AP)—Wage Stabilization will continue in the hands of the present board, President Truman said today, in effect making clear that no broad revision of the wage control program is in sight.

Apparently taking cognizance of reports that a new wage stabilization set-up might be forthcoming because of a presidential request for study of the wage stabilization question by the advisory board of the Office of War Mobilization and Reconversion, Mr. Truman said in a statement:

"The National Wage Stabilization Board will continue to administer the wage stabilization program."

No Action At Present Time On Eckles Fund

War Mothers Club, No. 2 Votes To Disband

The War Mothers' club No. 2 met Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Charles Lewis Meyers, 900 South Harrison avenue, after being recessed for the summer months. They transacted all business before they disbanded as an organization.

During the business meeting the club voted to accept the recommendation of the trustees of the Eckles Fund which was as follows: "The Trustees of the William C. Eckles Fund, having made numerous attempts to purchase property for William C. Eckles for use as a home during his lifetime, have been unsuccessful in locating any property that would be at all suitable for a dwelling house for the amount of money now in the fund. We, therefore, after due consideration make the following recommendation:

"First, that inasmuch as William C. Eckles is, at present, in the Army hospitals and it appears from such information as is available that he will be confined to the hospital and will undergo severe operations and in all probability, his confinement will extend for many months, that nothing be done at the present time for the reason that his presence here to consent to any property that might be offered for sale will be very uncertain for a long period of time, and the Trustees do not feel that we nor your organization would be justified in purchasing property for his use without his consent."

No Action Now
Second, that due to the inflationary trend of real estate, it is virtually impossible to buy a modern home that would be satisfactory and suitable as a gift of this nature for the amount of money now in the fund and for that reason, in addition to the above and foregoing reason, we further recommend that nothing be done at the present time."

There is now $3,036 in the bank with an additional $100 from the War Dads club available for use in the purchase of the home for Cpl. Eckles who is now at home on a furlough with his wife, son, Terry and daughter, Linda.

1946 Taxes Due November 1

Under the provisions of the new tax laws occasioned by adoption of the new Constitution, the 1946 county and state taxes will not be due and payable until November 1, 1946. Under the former law taxes were due and payable on October 1st of each year and the penalty went on if they were not paid before the first day of January. Under the new and present law the penalty will go on February 1st if the taxes are not paid before that date, which will give the taxpayer the same time for payment without penalty that the old law gave, of three months.

Continuation Model Plane Contest Today

Religious Service On Grounds This Morning

Continuation of the Second Regional Model Airplane Contest sponsored by the Sedalia Kiwanis Club will be at Liberty Park Sunday morning and afternoon.

Free flight contests were held Saturday at the Sedalia Airport, near Dresden.

Sunday's program will start with a religious service in charge of the Rev. Bird Campbell at 9 o'clock and will last a half an hour during which time there will be no contest events. The public is invited to attend the service and later to witness the boys in action with their planes the balance of the morning and again beginning at 1 o'clock in the afternoon.

Stunt And Exhibition Flying
There will be stunt flying and exhibition flying. The local club, the Knucklebusters, will have a three plane dog fight. Contestants will be Lee White, Herman Garner and Dickie Peterson. They will attach streamers to their planes and all fly at once attempting to tear the streamers from each other's planes. Two St. Louis boys will also have a dog fight.

Dickie Peterson will fly a plane blindfolded.

Members of the Kiwanis club are officiating in conducting the meet which originally had been planned for August but postponed until this week.

Saturday's events at the Sedalia airport saw many out-of-town and local Sedalia and Pettis county boys competing before a generous attendance of adults.

Fifteen Planes Lost
Fifteen planes were lost Saturday during the event due to the strong wind. The planes drifted north of the field and will probably be found. They should be returned to the owners whose names are on the planes, to the Kiwanis club or the Knucklebusters. The return of the planes will be appreciated.

One event which was outstanding was the exhibition of Parnell Schoenky of St. Louis, with the most unusual ships flown. He had two entries, one a helicopter, which established a national record at the meet in Wichita recently and the other the ornithopter, or flapping wing plane.

Contest Winners
Winners in the contest events were:

Class A, junior, Mike Stephens, Springfield, first; Bill Aven, Sedalia, second.

Class A, senior, Ray Tennis, Independence, first; W. E. McFarland, St. Joseph, second; Nelson R. Stauble, Independence, third.

Fats Collection Next Saturday

The Girl Scouts will make their next waste fat collection Saturday, September 28, 9 to 11 a. m. Due to health regulations during the summer months no collections were made.

The need for this commodity remains urgent and the Girl Scouts will appreciate the cooperation of the housewives in the first collection of the season.

Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.), the U. S. delegate, said the situation presented by the prolonged debate was "fantastic." The British proposed annex to the Romanian treaty would require that country to restore or replace Allied national property losses in oil fields, annual discriminatory legislation and admit key administrative officials and technical experts into the country to operate the wells.

Police Find Household Upside Down

Several days ago police were called to 706 East Fourth street, where H. J. Berry was arrested for disturbing the peace of Mrs. Berry. Mrs. Berry refused to appear in police court and his case was dismissed. About 1:30 o'clock Saturday morning a call was made for the police to go to the same address.

Officers William Hatfield and Robert Walker made a hurried run to the residence. Nobody was around, so they investigated anyway and found every window light and glass in the doors broken out. They went inside to see if anyone had been injured and they found the whole house a mess of upturned furniture.

Everything Upside Down
The officers reported to the police headquarters they didn't believe there was a stick of furniture which wasn't upside down and some broken. But nobody could be found.

A check of the neighbors brought only replies they hadn't heard anything out of the way, one saying he heard some glass smashing but didn't investigate. As to the call for the police nobody was around to tell them what happened, nor did anyone seem to know who turned in the call.

As far as the Berry's were concerned they could not be located by the police for questioning, and up to Saturday afternoon no report was made by them to the police as to what did happen.

Preparing For S-O Concerts

Letters inviting a number of Sedalia citizens to become Sedalia Symphony society sponsors or subscribers have been mailed out by Harry E. Lindstrom, president of the society. The invitation is open to all civic minded business firms, men and women interested in the cultural life of the city.

Sponsors are those contributing from $25 to $100 to the society for furthering symphony orchestra concerts in Sedalia. Subscribers are those contributing from $5 to $20.

Season tickets are sent to contributors on the basis of one ticket for each $5 paid. Also the names of the firms or individuals are listed on the concert programs.

These concerts, Mr. Lindstrom reminds the public, bring many people to Sedalia from the surrounding territory. Last year, he states, the seating capacity was barely enough or insufficient; this year the demand should be greater.

Conference Hits New Snag

By A. I. Goldberg

PARIS, Sept. 21—(AP)—The European peace conference hit a new snag today as the Slav bloc, spearheaded by Russia, contested vigorously a proposal to give special protection in Romania to British and other foreign oil companies.

After an unprecedented seven hours of debate over a parliamentary tangle, the Balkan economic commission decided to refer to conference authorities the question of whether a 7-7 tie on oil clauses proposed for the Romanian treaty was a "legitimate gallop."

Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.), the U. S. delegate, said the situation presented by the prolonged debate was "fantastic." The British proposed annex to the Romanian treaty would require that country to restore or replace Allied national property losses in oil fields, annual discriminatory legislation and admit key administrative officials and technical experts into the country to operate the wells.

Soldier AWOL, Cousin Takes Place in Army

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 21—(AP)—A soldier reported by the FBI to have been absent without leave for 76 days while his civilian cousin took his place in the army was held today by military authorities at Fort Leavenworth.

Dwight H. Brantley, agent in charge of the Kansas City FBI office, said the soldier was Pvt. Calvin W. Roberts, 20, who posed as a discharged veteran in his home town of Marshall, Mo., while the cousin, J. R. Mullin, also of Marshall, donned the uniform and reported for duty in his place.

The FBI, Brantley said, learned that Roberts, an overseas veteran, had reported to Fort Leavenworth following his re-enlistment furlough. However, while awaiting assignment, he went AWOL, Brantley said, and Mullin showed up to take his place.

Questioned And Released
Mullin, taken into custody at Fort Riley, Kas., was questioned by the U. S. district attorney at Topeka, Kas., Brantley said, but he understood he had been released.

Fort Leavenworth authorities said Roberts told them he absented himself from the post because his wife was ill, and later took a job in a shoe factory at Marshall. Brantley said he had learned that Mullin had "a strong desire to get into the army." Fort Leavenworth officers said Roberts told them Mullin had been rejected from military service.

Hold Two In Woman's Death

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill., Sept. 21—(AP)—An attractive 23-year-old divorcee was strangled and her wire-bound body thrown in the Mississippi river because, Police Chief Henry Bishop said today, she threatened to expose a Burlington, Iowa, soldier from nearby Scott Field to police as a holdup man and because the soldier had directed his attentions to another woman.

Bishop said Pvt. William Anderson, 25, an airforce veteran of 27 months overseas service, signed a written confession that he and two other persons, including the dead woman's rival for his affections, planned the crime two days before.

The body of Mrs. Irene England Elsing, mother of two children, was found floating in the Mississippi river, Sept. 9 by fishermen 30 miles downstream near Crystal City, Mo.

Anderson implicated a St. Louis public service company bus driver and Mrs. Ann Kuhlmeier of St. Louis, also a divorcee, who was taken into custody yesterday on a murder warrant at Burlington.

White House Social Season Begins Nov. 26

First Since 1939 When Hitler Invaded Poland

By Ruth Cowan

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21—(AP)—The first full White House social season since 1939, when Hitler invaded Poland, will begin with a diplomatic dinner Tuesday, Nov. 26, and with a congressional reception Tuesday evening, Feb. 18.

Six dinners and five receptions are on the program which will send the gold crested invitations of President and Mrs. Truman circulating throughout the capital, bringing out the evening gowns, the jewels, the formal dinner clothes and the dress uniforms.

The announcement of a resumption of White House state affairs will be a signal for Washington hostesses to plan their own formal and elaborate functions.

In seasons past the most glamorous event each year has been the diplomatic dinner. But this year, because of the tremendous size of the diplomatic corps—1,150—two dinners will be necessary. The first will be on Nov. 26, the second Dec. 3.

Reception January 7

This season's diplomatic reception will be on Tuesday January 7. There will be familiar faces at this season's diplomatic events—Ambassador Martins of Brazil who is dean of the corps; Ambassador Loudon of the Netherlands and others, but missing will be envoys from Germany and Japan. Italy, however, will be represented.

The season's first reception will be for the judiciary on December 10. This will be followed on December 17 by a formal dinner honoring the cabinet.

Tuesdays during this period are the "at home nights," and on Tuesday, January 14, will come the dinner for Chief Justice Vinson and members of the supreme court.

Plenty of Handshaking

President Truman will do a lot of handshaking the next Tuesday night, January 21, at the reception for officials of the treasury, post office, interior, agriculture, commerce and labor departments and federal agencies.

Senator McKellar of Tennessee as president of pro tempore of the senate will be honored with a dinner the evening of Tuesday, January 28. The following Tuesday, February 4, will bring one of the most brilliant events of the season, the army and navy reception. On February 11, will come the dinner for the speaker of the house, and on February 18, President Truman will see new and old faces at the congressional reception.

A & P To Appeal Court Conviction

By Willard Robertson

DANVILLE, Ill., Sept. 21—(AP)—Thirteen corporations and 16 officials who operate or serve the red-fronted A & P stores over the nation were convicted today of conspiring to control a substantial part of the country's food business.

An immediate appeal was planned by the New York Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company, 12 of its subsidiaries and 16 of its officers who called the bench ruling of Federal Judge Walter C. Lindley "a severe blow" not merely to the chain but to its millions of patrons.

"If upheld, it will mean less food on every dinner table and less buying power in every pay envelope," the defendants said.

Possible Penalties

Possible maximum penalties of a $5,000 fine and a one-year prison sentence confronted each of the defendants on each of the two counts of a criminal information brought by the department of justice's anti-trust division.

Specifically, the defendants were found in a 117-page decision to have conspired to restrain trade in food products and "to monopolize a substantial part of such products in interstate commerce."

This, Judge Lindley held in an opinion climaxing a protracted and complicated trial, was a violation of the Sherman anti-trust act.

1,500 Attend Policemen's Ball

Friday night Sedalia's "Blue Coats" held their annual Policemen's Ball at Liberty Park. It was the largest and most successful of their annual events during the evening, from 9 o'clock until midnight. The police realized $1,921 less expenses.

Harry Trotman's orchestra furnished the music for the dancing at the park. "Pop" Cline, St. Francis hotel, who claims the age of seventy-one years, and an entertainer for many years, did a tap dance and roller skating skit. "Pop" displayed his interpretation of a policeman on skates, his entertainment being given during the intermission, lasting for nearly a half an hour.

Mentioned For Cabinet

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21—(AP)—The name of Senator Robert M. LaFollette (Prog. Wis.) entered speculation today about a possible successor to Henry A. Wallace as Secretary of Commerce.

As is usual when a major government post is open, capital hill was rife with rumor and the Wisconsin senator was the man most mentioned.

No one professed, however, to have any authentic word as to whom President Truman might choose to fill the gap left in his official family by the ouster of Wallace.

And one of the President's closest friends told a reporter he thought it unlikely the job would be offered to LaFollette.

Eight Taken to Hospital From Plane Wreck

Operations To Rescue Ten Start At Daybreak

By Howard Cowan

GANDER AIRPORT, Nfld., Sept. 21—(AP)—U. S. coast guard helicopter and flying boats, shuttling back and forth over lakes and forests of northeastern Newfoundland, brought eight survivors of the Sabena Airliner crash to a hospital at the Gander air base tonight before darkness fell.

Ten other survivors remain to be brought out when rescue operations are resumed at daybreak.

Capt. W. C. McConnell, commander of the Gander base army detachment, said these were the five hospitalized tonight:

Jean Rooeki, airline hostess and only survivor in a plane crew of seven, both legs broken, condition critical; Rudi Revil, composer and musician of New York, both hands badly burned and internal injuries; Walter Devos of Ghent, Belgium, fractured leg; Helen Ruth Henderson, of New York, Girl Scout executive, and Mrs. Renee Jacquet of Courtrai, Belgium, burns about the face.

Other Evacuees

The rescue fliers also evacuated John King, 19-year-old son of the Chinese ambassador to Belgium; Mrs. Leona Tonchet of Brussels, and Joseph Deschuyfeleer of Brussels. Their injuries were not immediately learned.

The last patient evacuated before darkness set in was Deschuyfeleer, who was flown directly to the Gander airport in the helicopter piloted by Lt. August Kleisch of the coast guard.

Two coast guard rescue teams, each composed of a helicopter and a PBY Catalina Flying Boat, began the daring rescue operation at 1:42 p. m., when Lt. Kleisch took off from Gander for a tiny plateau near the scene of the tragedy. Soon the first survivor, Miss Rooeki, was whisked away in Kleisch's helicopter and taken to a Catalina which was waiting in a lake five miles away to bring her here.

Miss Rooeki covered her face with a blanket as she was lifted from the plane upon arrival and placed in an ambulance for removal to the Sir Frederick Banting Memorial hospital. Revil winced with pain as he eased out of the craft, both hands and arms wrapped in bandages. He was wearing no trousers—just long underwear.

Grateful For America
"Thank for America," said Devos as he was taken out. He smiled and told attendants to "take it easy." Miss Henderson appeared to be in good spirits. The extent of her injuries was not disclosed.

Back in the emergency camp, deep in the wilderness where the remaining survivors must spend their fourth night, morale was said to be high, what with the weather warming up and skies clearing.

Sugar Rations Through 1946

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21—(AP)—The agriculture department said today present sugar rations will continue at least through 1946 and any significant increases are not likely until next year's crops start moving to market in volume.

The size of the increases in rations then, if any, will depend on the size of the new crops.

The department said it expects production next year to increase. But it added that sugar requirements for consumption and for stock replenishment are expected to exceed available supplies.

A Stalemate Becoming Stale—

Diversion of energy toward solving the housing shortage would redound more to the credit of Sedalia's community enterprise than expending this energy bickering about the stalemate between the closed theatres and the city administration over a gross revenue tax.

Up until now there has been no great roar of protest over lack of theatre entertainment in Sedalia. Those who insist upon having their movie entertainment are simply taking themselves, their families and friends to Marshall, to Warrensburg, to Knobnoster and to Jefferson City to spend their money. This evening migration is growing apace. One only has to attend theatres in neighboring towns to see many familiar Sedalia faces. These people are spending money also for after-theatre snacks and other entertainment. And there is a good bit of window shopping being done elsewhere by the women and men, too. And don't think the merchants in neighboring towns overlook this. They are putting out plenty of bait for Sedalia shoppers.

This sort of a stalemate seems mighty silly until one realizes how serious it is becoming. As for correcting it, no one seems to have the answer. The administration is adamant in requiring the movie houses to pay a 5% tax on gross revenue as provided in the ordinance recently passed. And the theatre operators are just as determined not to pay a tax on gross revenue and are therefore keeping their theatres closed.

The public is caught in the cross fire as usual.

The merchants began to sign a petition of protest, but nothing much ever came of it. There have been numerous conferences between the administration and theatre owners and others who had hope some sort of adjustment could be made between the contending parties.

The whole situation is wearing out the patience of the public, especially among those hundreds of families who cannot hop into an automobile and drive twenty or thirty or sixty miles to see a movie.

Isn't it about time for the community leaders to stop looking upon this situation as a hot penny and with calm deliberation endeavor to assist in bringing about its solution so Sedalia may again have its moving picture theatres operating.

As it stands today everybody is losing—the city is losing on taxes; the theatres are losing revenue, so are the merchants; and the public is forced into losing movie entertainment it is justly entitled to have.

The Washington Circus—

The bizarre foreign policy tumbling act in Washington the past week had the acrobatic show at the State Fair "beat a mile," to use a favorite Missouri expression.

After all maybe there's some solace in the fact the political wise men influenced Franklin D. Roosevelt to accept Harry Truman instead of Henry Wallace as a vice-presidential running mate.

One may well wonder what the course of history might have been had Mr. Wallace succeeded to the presidency. And he, too, in resignation may be pondering the implications of the Rossetti sonnet:

"Look in my face: my name is Might-have been;
I am also called No-more, Too-late, Farewell."

However, it is too much to expect Henry Wallace to fade from the public scene. More will be heard from him as he rides his steed of idealism in the simulated charge of a political light brigade, the denouement of which may have as its counterpart a parody on the words of Tennyson:

"Forward, the Red Brigade;
Was there a man dismay'd?
Not though the Communists knew
Some one had blunder'd.
Their's not to make reply,
Their's not to reason why,
Their's but to do or die.
Into the valley of oblivion
Rode the Fellow-travelers."

Rotation of the earth is slowing down about one second in every 10,000 years; about the same rate as juveniles, remarks Dad.

If you want someone to believe anything you tell them, just tell it in a confidential whisper.

An astronomer calculates the sun is diminishing at the rate of 250,000,000 tons a minute; which is no record at all according to the man who stands in the daily line at the meat counters and watches the beef and bacon supply diminish—when there is any beef or bacon.

The Daily Washington Merry-go-Round

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—One of the hottest reports in Washington is now almost burning up its filing cabinet in the justice department. All sorts of pressure is being brought to make sure it never sees the light of day.

It is a report on certain high-placed Americans who cooperated with the Nazis before Pearl Harbor. It was prepared by the justice department's crack prosecutor, John Rogge, on the basis of interviews with Herman Goering and other German prisoners.

It steps on some very powerful toes.

It is significant that all those now out of congress were repudiated at the polls.

Whether the report ever survives the pressure now being exerted on the justice department remains to be seen. It is doubtful. Cattle dealers are not the only ones who can strike against meat prices. G. I. students at the University of Minnesota have launched a complete boycott of meat until prices come down, are living on soup and vegetables. Housewives should be glad that sugar is to remain rationed. If rationing ended, soft drink, candy and pastry manufacturers would drive up the price and further shorten grocers' supplies. Pepsi-Cola is only waiting for the end of rationing to open a cutthroat campaign to keep and extend the market they've won from Coca-Cola during the war. OPA will crack down on meat wholesalers in New York, Cleveland and Chicago who have been forcing butchers to accept meat on invoices dated back to the period before price restraints. By predating invoices, wholesalers force retailers to pay above-ceiling prices, thus forcing them to charge consumers above ceiling. Poultry prices are hitting an average of eight cents a pound above the old ceiling price, even though there is no shortage of poultry. As a result the re-control board may pressure Secretary of Agriculture Anderson to recommend recontrol of poultry. The justice department is also interested in the stranglehold several large meat packers have on the poultry industry.

NOT many people came to express their sympathy to the Fitzgeralds there at Innisfail. Mrs. Fitzgerald had not paid any attention to these people in life, thus at her death, hardly knowing her, they hesitated to come to the house. But the church was crowded.

I knelt beside Cousin Ellen and hid my face in my hands during Mass. Innisfail would never be the same without its mistress. In her own brusque way she had been kind to me. She had not wanted me to work, because she had thought me too young. And she had wanted Ellen to give me the best to eat and have me get out in the sunshine every day.

And she had been a great lady in her day. I remembered Ellen saying, "Ah, she was like a queen; indeed, she was a queen." And I thought how, watching the cortege that took Honora Murray Fitzgerald down the drive between the tall maples, it had seemed to me that the trees themselves had been more erect than ever, as if to pay her homage.

THE Fitzgerald men mourned for their mother in their own characteristic fashion. Mark was quieter than before, and a trifle grayer, and the expression of his mouth became even more stern. He kept himself shut up in his study a large part of the time in the weeks immediately following her death, but he continued his work, still patiently trying to instill a little knowledge into the heads of the two hopelessly dull young athletes. And he still cared for his garden, though it was now a glorious mass of bloom, needing little care.

Colin wandered in and out restlessly and seemed not to know what to do with himself. You might come upon him in the library, where he was turning over leaves of books but never settling himself to read, or see him walking rapidly up and down the terrace, smoking one cigarette after another. And then suddenly he would get into his car and drive off, only to be back again almost at once to start pacing again. Sometimes he would stand staring down at the little river and his black eyes then had a bleak expression that I had never seen there before.

Dinners were ghastly. Miss Charlotte, keeping up much better than either Ellen or I had feared, tried her best to make conversation, but it was not much good. "If only they'd fight, ah, if only they'd fight," Ellen said to me one night after she had carried in the roast in the midst of a dead silence. And then she burst into tears.

For Colin and Mark were so heartbreakingly polite and considerate of one another. When one of them ventured a quiet opinion on something, the other listened respectfully and even appeared to agree. I had never thought I should live to see the day.

Father Gene came more often than he had before, and managed to inveigle Mark into playing chess finally, but, of course, there was no more music. The huge grand piano was closed, its voice hushed. Innisfail, house of Fitzgerald, was in mourning.

Innisfail without its mistress, even though she had been helpless and bedridden for many weeks, was nothing but an echoing silent habitation. A haunting memory evening by C. W. Hamlin, of Springfield.

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (NEA)—
The advance agent for an Alaskan battle this year between winter and the U. S. Army is a lone B-29 that is spying on weather's weapons and strategy every day over a front thousands of miles long.

The airborne snooper is listed in Army orders as "Operation Stork," the first regularly scheduled long range weather reconnaissance flight into weather's big arsenal in the North Pacific between San Francisco and Alaska.
What it finds on its daily 13-hour run from Suisun Army airfield to this northern base will provide vital intelligence for the forthcoming ground force maneuvers in Alaska, and or much of the United States as well.

The plan, worked out by the Army Weather Service Headquarters at Langley Field, Va., and by energetic young Col. Karl T. Rauk, commanding officer of the 59th Squadron, is to fly the 2462-mile route, north one day and south the next. Observations will be made at about the same points and altitudes regardless of the direction of the flight.

Weather data gathered at approximately 16 stations along the route are to be radioed to stations in Alaska and along the Pacific Coast. This information will be immediately made available to all military and civilian weather agencies. Colonel Rauk believes this information will greatly aid meteorologists in forecasting weather for much of the United States and Canada as well as the air and shipping routes of Alaskan and North Pacific waters.

On the first day's run, on which I was a guest snooper, our specially equipped Superfortress headed out to sea in a low-hanging fog with Lt. Earl F. Dunphy, of Crowley, La., at the controls.

We cleared the Farallon Islands, 30 miles west of San Francisco, by radar and down we went through the fog. Lt. J. R. Buchanan, of Santa Paula, Cal., at the weather observer's station in the bombardier compartment, checked the altitude at 500 feet on the radar altimeter and ordered the pilot to level off.

Lt. J. C. Crose, of Turlock, Cal., the navigator, checked the plane's position by Loran and set the course northwest. For almost 1100 miles, Operation Stork "flew on the deck," 500 feet above the water. Sometimes the choppy waves of the Pacific were visible.

Sometimes the wing tips of the plane could barely be seen.

At designated points the weatherman would get very busy with his instruments, the pilot would swing the plane 45 degrees off the line of flight, fly that direction for two minutes, swing around to 90 degrees, fly that for two minutes, and then resume the flight on the original course. After this maneuver, the weatherman would hand the radioman a note containing all the information he had been able to wring out of the weather at that point. The criss-cross flying was to enable the weatherman to get drift-indicator readings on three lines of flight and determine the direction and velocity of the wind.

Probably one of the busiest members of the crew during the entire flight was the radio operator, T. Sgt. E. P. Bishop, of Mesa, Ariz. Handicapped by low altitude and bad atmospheric conditions, he would sometimes have to try several contacts before getting the report through. After finally getting his report off, he would relax, light up a cigaret, lean back—and the weatherman would hand him another report.

At a point about 1100 miles out, the pilot made a circling climb to 10,000 feet, the weatherman made observations at each 1,000 foot level, and the navigator set the course north over Kodiak Island to Anchorage.

Heavy cloud banks that obscured Kodiak Island began to thin as the flight came in over the Cook Inlet and with the icy mountains of the Kenai Peninsula glistening to the east, Operation Stork dropped into Anchorage out of clear skies.

Here Is the Latest News about Chevrolet Deliveries

Everybody from factory to dealer is doing everything that can be done to speed deliveries to you

We have been informed by the Chevrolet Motor Division that the past month has witnessed only a slight improvement in the rate of production of new Chevrolet passenger cars. As a result, shipments of new cars to dealers for delivery are still far below the level we and the factory had hoped to attain by this time. In fact, through August, Chevrolet's output of cars in 1946 was only 22.6% of the number turned out during the corresponding period of 1941.

We know that Chevrolet is doing everything possible to step up its production totals—to ship more and more cars to us and to its thousands of other dealers throughout America... and we know, too, that we are assured of getting our full proportionate share of the current output and of future production gains.

Disappointing as the total figures have been—and despite the fact that Chevrolet was out of production entirely during the first three months of the year—it is nevertheless true that Chevrolet led all other manufacturers in production of passenger cars during June 1946, and has continued to maintain its lead in total production from that day to this.

The outlook, therefore, may be said to be somewhat improved. And of this you may be sure: We shall continue to make deliveries of new Chevrolets to our customers just as fast as we receive them; we regret delays as deeply as you do; we thank you for your friendly patience and understanding; and we promise you a new high motoring experience when you take delivery of your new Chevrolet, giving BIG-CAR QUALITY AT LOWEST COST!

Keep Your Present Car Alive

Meanwhile, may we suggest that you safeguard your transportation by bringing your car to us for service now and at regular intervals. Let us help you to keep it in good running condition—to maintain its performance, appearance and resale value—until the day when your new Chevrolet comes along.

Cold-Blooded Experiments By Germans

Cited by War Department in Secret Documents

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—(P)—Nazi experiments in freezing human beings in a study of "the behavior of organisms at great heights" were cited by the war department today in releasing a volume of secret documents seized after the conquest of Germany.

One of the documents, written by a German air force physician, Dr. S. Rascher, to Gestapo Chief Heinrich Himmler, inconspicuously discussed the cold-blooded experiments after first thanking Himmler for sending "flowers on the birth of my second son. . . A strong boy."

In a letter dated Feb. 17, 1943, Dr. Rascher wrote to Himmler that "up to now" he had "cooled off" about 30 human guinea pigs taken from concentration camps, by stripping them and exposing them to winter air for nine to 14 hours until their body temperatures fell as low as 27 degrees centigrade.

In Hot Bath "After one hour, I put these subjects in a hot bath," the letter said. "Every single patient was completely warmed up within one hour at most, though some of them had their hands and feet frozen white."

Dr. Rascher also reported on subjecting humans to ice baths with water reduced to temperatures ranging from 12 degrees to 2.5 degrees and the patients strapped in rubber life jackets to prevent submerging. These tests were conducted at the notorious Dachau concentration camp.

The reports concluded that when the body temperature dropped to 28 degrees the victims invariably died.

Secret Document

In another document marked "secret" in capital letters, Himmler declared he "personally assumed the responsibility for supplying asocial individuals who deserve only to die from concentration camps for these experiments." Himmler said the experiments were needed to learn how to cope with the conditions encountered by high-flying German bombers and "frost injuries" suffered by Nazi troops fighting on the winter-frozen Russian front.

Conditions were said to be good for completing the rescue work tomorrow.

Dr. Samuel P. Martin of St. Louis, Mo., head of the rescue party and one of its most heroic members, refused tonight to leave the side of the 10 injured who remained at the crash scene. He has been virtually without sleep since he and the other members of his party went into the wilds Thursday afternoon and administered first aid to the surviving victims.

Missouri In Rescue Party GANDER AIRPORT, Nfld., Sept. 21.—(P)—The 14-man rescue party which reached survivors of the wrecked Belgian airliner in the Newfoundland wilderness Thursday night was sent out from St. Andrews, army base near Argentina.

The party, which reached the scene of the crash by rubber boats, was headed by Capt. Samuel P. Martin, of Durham, N. C., army medical officer formerly connected with Barnes hospital in St. Louis. Other members included: Sgt. Stanley W. Banbraksik, Napoleon, Mo.

Church Activities

The T. E. L. Sunday school class of the East Sedalia Baptist church met Thursday in an all day meeting.

A covered dish luncheon was served at the noon hour, with Mrs. Walter Pinkepank, Mrs. Earl Parker, Mrs. John Holman, Mrs. W. E. Paull and Mrs. Edith McFarland.

The business meeting was held at 2:00 o'clock in the afternoon with the following officers elected for the coming year: Mrs. Earl Parker, president; Mrs. O. D. Bell, vice president; Mrs. Louis Mills, secretary-treasurer; Miss Mable Aldridge, assistant secretary-treasurer; Miss Elliott, class ministries; Mrs. W. O. Maness and Mrs. O. Y. Thomas, fellowship and Mrs. Walter Pinkepank, stewardship.

Mrs. W. E. Sands was in charge of the devotional.

Mrs. W. O. Maness and Mrs. J. M. Stott sang a duet.

Mrs. Hallie Rice, the speaker, took for her subject, "Prayer."

At the close of the meeting Mrs. Hallie Rice, teacher of the class, who is leaving soon, was given a handkerchief shower.

100-Mile-An-Hour Wind Subsides

GUAM, Sept. 21.—(AP)—An erratic typhoon whipped across the Marianas islands today, heavily damaged property but causing no reported loss of life and few injuries at this big navy and army base.

Disrupted communications prevented a full accounting, but Rear Adm. Charles A. Pownall, commander of the Marianas, said first reports indicated no serious injuries to naval and marine personnel or civilians. The army reported one man had suffered a broken back.

The 100-mile-an-hour wind had subsided somewhat by this afternoon but 15-to-20 breakers still lashed

Campaign For Teen-Town September 23

Three years ago in November teen agers in Sedalia requested a place for recreation, where they could spend their free time. Through the cooperation of the P. T. A., other individuals and even business firms, they opened the "Teen Town" on Second street between Ohio and Lamine avenues. Donations were generously given, and the teen agers themselves worked to continue the support of the club. Today an average of more than five hundred teen agers enjoy the facilities of Teen Town weekly. The rules and regulations of the club were drawn up by the students, and approved by the adult board of directors. A paid supervisor, Mrs. Ollie Street, is at hand at all times when the club is open. Recently the furniture from the local U. S. O. was purchased for the club.

The teen agers are still at work to keep their club open. Each year a drive is sponsored to obtain funds for the coming year. The drive this year will open on Monday, September 23rd. Each year the donations have decreased, while prices have gone up. The cost of keeping Teen Town open is $200 per month, plus allowances for needed equipment, necessary repairs, and from time to time, building repairs. However, if 3,000 persons in Sedalia would mail $1 each year to the Teen Town treasurer, it would not be necessary to conduct a drive, and the membership dues could be reduced to a minimum. During the drive this year, volunteers will call on the citizens of Sedalia to ask for their contributions. Needless to say, any amount you choose to give will be appreciated. More volunteers are needed for this job.

The adult solicitors will be headed by Mrs. Leo Eickhoff, chairman, and the student committee by Joe Potts. For any information desired contact Mrs. Eickhoff, 3709, or Mr. Brougher, 292.

Report Yank B-29 Living in Slavery

NANKING, Sept. 21.—(P)—Unofficial but credible reports from Far Western China tonight indicated that some American B-29 crewmen were living in slavery under wild tribesmen near the north Burma border after being forced down two years ago.

These reports said at least three Americans had been seen recently with the "Lolo" tribes of western Szechwan province and that they were forced to tend herds, gather wood and do other menial tasks under subject conditions of servitude.

The reports placed the locality as roughly west of Sichang (Ning-Yuan), near where Burma, Assam and Tibet meet the ill defined Chinese borders.

Veterans Now Training Must Report Income

August, September And October Must Be Filed by Nov. 12

Veterans taking on-the-job training or attending school under the G. I. Bill will now be required to report their income to the Veterans Administration every four months, it was announced today by Mr. Don Campbell, contact representative of the Veterans Administration office here. The new requirement is based on recent Congressional action limiting the monthly income of G. I. trainees to $175 if single or $200 if they have dependents.

Veterans in the affected category are being notified that they must report their August, September and October earnings to VA by November 5. If the report has not been received by November 12, the veterans will be notified that their subsistence payments will stop until the information is supplied.

The income report is required of students, VA pointed out, because many of them may now be able to accept outside work to boost their incomes, without exceeding the legal limit. The reports from on-the-job trainees will enable VA to adjust the trainee's subsistence checks so that they do not exceed the maximum amount permitted.

Necessary adjustments in subsistence, in the case of veterans already in school, will be made on the basis of these reports. Veterans who enroll or re-enroll in school will receive from their school a form on which to report their expected earnings from outside employment. VA will base the veteran's subsistence allowance on the information supplied on this form.

Recheck Earnings Every semester the veteran's earnings will be checked again, to determine whether any further adjustment is necessary. Before this re-check is required, VA will send each veteran a form on which to report the amount he actually has earned since the last report, and what he expects to earn during the ensuing period.

A similar procedure is to be followed for veterans who enter or re-enter on-the-job training from now on. They will receive a form on which to report their expected earnings, with a certification from their employer. Every four months they will receive another form, on which they will indicate what they have actually made during the preceding interval and what they expect to make during the next period. An necessary adjustments in subsistence allowances will be made on the basis of these reports.

State-wide Aid Program

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 21.—(P)—Plans for a state-wide program to aid victims of spastic paralysis will be made here October 3 at a meeting of the Missouri Society for Crippled Children, Inc.

In announcing its program today, Dr. Archer O'Reilly said an estimated seven of every 100,000 population are afflicted with cerebral palsy, commonly known as spastic paralysis.

"Long regarded as hopelessly incurable," he said, "new methods of diagnosis, training and treatment have been developed in recent years which offers the hope that many spastics may learn to live useful lives, even become partially or wholly self-supporting."

This meeting will be the first regular one since before the war.

Diplomatic Surprise

Argentine Envoy Says he Plans to Tell the Truth

Dr. Oscar Ivanissevich, the new Argentine ambassador, first showed up in town recently, he profoundly shocked the state department and the rest of the capitol's diplomatic corps by asserting he planned always to tell the truth.

This claim is novel and startling in itself. But the most astonishing thing of all is that they've discovered he's apparently not kidding about it.

Dr. Ivanissevich's first few weeks here have been the source of several surprises. When he appeared at the White House to present his credentials all eyes bugged out as he stepped out of the car. Few of the state department officials and White House attendants present could remember when they had last seen the elaborate cut-away coat, striped pants and an ascot tie with a real pearl stickpin the Doctor wore.

The new ambassador does not fit the pattern of a typical smiling, bowing South American diplomat. He's friendly in a reserved manner and a few minutes conversation with him reveals his intense sincerity.

It's perfectly obvious that Dr. Ivanissevich is not a career diplomat. His polish is that usually found on a professional man who knows his profession well. The doctor is a Doctor of Medicine and surgery and one of the best in his country. He is also a teacher and has had an exchange professorship with the University of California.

The new Ambassador is tall, 53 years old, trim of figure and doesn't lack hair. He speaks English haltingly. He is the father of three children.

He's constantly surprising the state department by talking quite frankly about the "degeneration of relations with his country." He says he intends to make them better.

His letter of credence to the American government is one of the most unusual ever put out. He writes:

"At this time it appears to me necessary that you should know through the lips of a man who possesses the singular merit of never having lied, the truth regarding the Argentine Republic."

"Our country has recently been the object of calumnies repeated by men who are endeavoring to pressure their unjust privileges, and who in reality represent the oligarchy both inside and outside our country."

He claims that President Peron's ideas of government are basically those of Lincoln, "Government of the people, by the people and for the people."

Ambassador Ivanissevich is busily learning all the duties of an ambassador and his teachers report he is an apt pupil. They claim, however, he will never learn how to be a "play-boy," a reputation which some diplomats seem to favor.

He gets his Russian-sounding name from his forebears who came from the Dalmatian coast, in what is now Yugoslavia, many years ago.

Ships near land may proceed with safety with the aid of new maritime radar equipment through fogs so thick that lighthouse beacons cannot be seen.

Brick Homemakers Club Meeting

The Brick Homemakers Club met at the club house Tuesday, with ten members and three guests present. The club voted to send Christmas gifts to children overseas, and Mrs. J. E. Deuschle was put in charge. A talk, "Plans for Young Folks," was rendered by Mrs. J. E. Deuschle, and a talk and discussion on "How to Store Vegetables for Winter Use" was led by Mrs. Fred Holman. Other topics were discussed by the group. The song, "Follow the Glean," was sung by the group. The devotional was led by Mrs. Roy Armstrong. A poem was read and the meeting was closed.

LISTEN!
by Jim Carson

NEXT SATURDAY when the Brush Creek Follies give their friends a preview performance of the 1946-47 season, Jed Starkey of The Corn Crib Carnival (Week-days, 5 a. m.) takes his accustomed place as one of the show's top comedians. Jed is almost traditional around these parts for his Arkansas humor. No wonder he sounds like an Arkansawyer, for Benton County, the heart of the Ozark country, is his birthplace. The whole Brush Creek gang will be over in Memorial Hall, Kansas City, Kansas, for a preview to the new season. Yes—KMBC's internationally famous "The Texas Rangers" will be there, too!

Up In the Air
KMBC's SPORTS department is really up in the air these days. Sam Molen, in order to take care of his 5:55 p. m. and 9:40 p. m. sportscasts, is traveling by plane to cover the big hops to highlight Big Six grid games of the week. It's like being in two places at the same time. Next Saturday, Sam and Gene Dennis will travel to Columbus, O., for the Missouri-Ohio State game. It looks as if they'll travel some 5000 miles to give KMBC listeners play-by-play accounts of top Big Six games this year. Wayne King's orchestra was a summer fill for "Durante and Moore"—(Fridays, 7:30 p. m.). As far as we know, he is not scheduled for a winter show.

Stars In Afternoon
LISTENERS AGAIN this year will sit in on a three-ring circus version of the C.B.S. fall program offerings. Practically all of the stars on the network and KMBC will participate in two shows—each of the next two Sundays starting at 1 p. m. and continuing for an hour and a half. A listener from Kansas City, Kansas, wants to know, "What is meant by a radio transcription? A transcription by our own facilities? Well, quite often it is not possible to play a network program at exactly the same time it comes in over the lines—or an advertiser may wish to produce his program in New York, not to use a network, but individual stations throughout the country. So, he resorts to an electrical transcription. Now the E. T. is, in brief, a fancy phonograph record! Ouch, can almost feel the engineers hitting us for that one. In a technical sense it is a greatly improved method of recording, which serves the particular needs of broadcasting—eliminates surface scratching, gives improved tonal reproduction, etc. KMBC has the latest equipment of this kind, so when you hear "transcription by our own facilities," this merely means that KMBC itself is doing the transcribing.

Other Mail
ANOTHER LISTENER from Kansas City wants to know what has happened to George Washington White? Just take in one of the Brush Creek Follies, which get underway within the week, and you'll find him very much in evidence. A listener from Falls City, Nebraska, wants to know where and when Professor Quiz, radio's first nationally known quiz-master, can be heard. Sorry—but guess the show has gone the way of many old-timers.

Slogans Better But Deaths On Increase

Army Trying to Install Good Driving in Germany

By Tom Reedy (For Hal Boyle)
FRANKFURT, Germany, Sept. 21.—(P)—The army's slogan writers are going slowly crazy, trying to keep pace in the race with death.

They have tried everything: they have appealed to fear, to humor, to a man's sense of the practical. Nothing seems to do any good. Thirty-four Americans were killed in highway accidents in Germany during August. This month of September doesn't promise anything better.

This is why the slogan writers weep. Each month the signs along the "autobahn" get bigger; each month the death toll rises.

These slogans written by American army men actually are more compelling than the old-fashioned "Stop, Look and Listen." Top dog of all is the familiar:

"Death is so permanent; drive carefully."

Signs everywhere

You see that one everywhere. It has become almost a byword in Germany, so much so that you see it written on billboards in Germany.

It is the oldest of all the slogans designed to save a life in the ETO. But it wasn't enough. Now you see—

"Take care, repair, get there."

Or—

"MMMF"—which on successive signs is interpreted:

"Motor maintenance means fine performance."

In Weisbaden, the pin-up idea came into being, there is a big sign with the picture of a shapely lass doffing her steps. The theme:

"That's right, bud, take another look. You'll crack up."

At Ingolstadt, they drew a skull and crossbones with the ominous legend: "Three lost their lives here."

"Slippery when wet," "Rough road," "Slow," "S-Curve"—ad infinitum.

The answer

Transport in Europe is a fragile thing. The vehicles are falling apart, the roads are inconceivably bad. Service on old beaten-up cars is a joke. No parts are available. You can't get a new car here from the United States, barring a miracle. They sell jeeps for $400 or $600 that would be ruled off the roads in the States as unfit to drive.

There are drivers who never should be allowed to drive at all. They have no idea what a jeep will or will not do; what a bad road means, what a tough curve on slippery macadam can yield, what hypnotic influence is exerted by ten straight miles of sleep-producing "autobahn."

Tombstone Next

There will continue to be a life lost every day until good cars, good service stations and good roads are combined with good drivers.

Lacking that, the slogan writers can scheme, plot, concoct, dream and devise. The only thing I'll yield is a smart sign, which with a touch of rusty black would make a good tombstone.

The wedding will take place on Saturday, October 5.

Miss Muriel Elizabeth Couhig, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Couhig, 901 West Sixth street, became the bride of Mr. Albert Kinney Downs, son of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Downs, 716 West Sixth street, at a double ring service at 10:00 o'clock Wednesday morning, September 18. The solemn high nuptial mass was read at Sacred Heart church with the Rev. James K. Couhig, of Oklahoma City brother of the bride as celebrant, the Rev. Lawrence Gowney, deacon and the Rev. William Stack, sub deacon.

Palms and white gladioli formed the setting for the service.

The bridal party entered the church to the strains of the "Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin" by Wagner.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white lace fashioned with tight bodice, long sleeves with tiny puffs at the top and hoop skirt. Her three quarter length veil formed a tiara across the front of which were orange blossoms, and her only ornament was a strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom. She carried a bridal bouquet of white gladioli in the center of which was a white orchid.

Beverly Couhig, niece of the bride, as junior bridesmaid, wore a dress of pink net, styled like that of the bride, with three quarter veil. She carried a nosegay of pastel shades of flowers.

Miss Jeanne Cooney, cousin of the bridegroom and Miss Annetta Clatworthy, of Harrisonville, a former classmate of the bride, were bridesmaids. They wore identical dresses made with lace bodices, sweetheart necklines, three quarter sleeves and full skirts over taffeta. Their fingertip veils also formed tiaras and they carried bouquets of salmon colored gladioli.

Mrs. Raymond Latham, sister of the bridegroom, was matron of honor. Her dress was of blue made like those of the bridesmaids and her matching fingertip veil also formed a tiara. Her bouquet was of salmon colored gladioli.

The bride's veil and those of her bridesmaids and matron of honor were made by her mother.

Mr. William Pettijohn served as best man.

Ushers were Mr. William B. Couhig, brother of the bride, Mr. William Solon and Mr. Thomas Hurley.

Proceeding the ceremony Miss Georgiann Holdner sang, "On This Day, O Beautiful Mother," and the Sacred Heart high school choir sang, "Ave Maria" during the mass.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's aunts, Mrs. Isabell McNamara and Miss Lucren Keck, 824 West Sixth street, following the ceremony.

A four tier wedding cake centered the table on either side of which were white tapers. The cake was served with punch and rosebud mints by Mrs. J. L. Van Horn, Mrs. Raymond Peterson, Mrs. William Faulkner, Miss Jane Meuschke and Misses Josephine, Marjorie and Alice Chipman.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. Tom Moxley and Mr. George Herschel, both of Oklahoma City, Okla., Miss Mary Ann Hammen, Warrensburg, Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Finney and daughter, Edna Mae of Jefferson City, Mr. and Mrs. Clatworthy, Harrisonville, Mrs. Jean Collins, Kansas City, Mrs. J. T. Downs, Kansas City, grandmother of the bridegroom, Mrs. George Kenzora, Kansas City, aunt of the bridegroom and Mr. Edward Downs, St. Joseph, uncle of the bridegroom.

The bride is a graduate of the Smith-Cotton high school and received her B. S. degree of education in English from the Central Missouri State Teachers college at Warrensburg.

The bridegroom is a graduate of the Smith-Cotton high school and attended the University of Missouri one year before going into service in November 1941. He attended officers school at Ft. He served in the Pacific area for thirty-four months, participated in the invasions of Siapan and Okinawa and was a captain in the Army Engineers Corps when he received his discharge from service in January 1946. He is now employed at Tullis-Hall's.

Mr. and Mrs. Downs left for a wedding trip to New Orleans, La., and upon their return will reside at the Kindred apartments, 302½ South Grand avenue. Mrs. Downs' traveling suit was of blue green gabardine with white crepe blouse. Her hat and gloves were brown and her purse and shoes were brown lizard. She wore a corsage of white tuberoses centered with a white orchid.

Miss Hazel Jean Bell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Bell, 1815 West Third street, and Myron C. Vawter, a son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Vawter of Cooksville, Ill., exchanged wedding vows in a double ring ceremony read by Rev. T. W. Croxton, pastor of the First Baptist church, at two-thirty in the afternoon, Sunday, September 15th at the home of the bride's parents.

The service took place before a setting of foliage, white and salmon-pink gladioli in tall white baskets which were placed on each side of the fire place. A fan shaped bouquet of gladioli was arranged on the mantel. Preceding the ceremony three organ selections, "Meditation" by Massenet, "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life" by Victor Herbert, and "Always" by Irving Berlin, were played.

The bridal party entered the living room to the strains of "The Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin" by Wagner. "Lieberstraum" was softly played during the ceremony.

Her gloves were of white embroidered net. The other accessories were of brown. Her corsage was five large gardenias.

Mr. Billy Gene Stodgell served Mr. Vawter as best man.

The bride's mother wore a dress of black crepe trimmed with a matching fabric of gold. Mrs. Bell's corsage was of yellow gladioli.

After the ceremony a reception was held for the wedding guests. Lighted tapers in crystal candle holders were used on the table which was covered with a brocade silk cloth of a Chinese design, a gift of the bridegroom. Centering the table was a three

Girl Scouting, the common ground of understanding to all girls, regardless of nationality, race or creed, now serves over a million girls. With sponsorship and more volunteer leaders it could serve a million more. Every woman with a hobby to share, an interest in girls, or an interest in the future of the world, has something to offer Girl Scouting. The children of the world today will be citizens of the world tomorrow. The future, the job of digging new ditches through the waters of peace and economic stability are to flow belongs to them. With their courage and their young energy, as demonstrated by the Girl Scouts, they are the world's insurance for harmonious living. But they must be backed up. They must be guided and helped, and that job belongs to the adults. The more than six hundred Girl Scouts of Sedalia need more adults to help with their program.

Mrs. E. T. Dillard, chairman of the leaders' club has announced a 'Get Acquainted' party for Tuesday evening, September 24, at the Parish Hall, Ohio avenue and near Broadway. The time, 7:30 p. m. Leaders, assistant leaders, troop committee members, council members and women who are interested in the Girl Scouts of their community and care to help with the program are invited to come to the party. An interesting program is scheduled for Tuesday evening.

Pictures From Flowers Sorosis Theme

The civics department of the Sorosis club, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Arthur Klang, will present Mrs. Vane Deal, of St. Louis, Monday at 2:30 p. m. at the Heard Memorial clubhouse.

"Painting Pictures With Flowers" is the apt title for the demonstration talk on flower arrangement, the opening program for this season.

"Good arrangements and good paintings are based on the same principles of design," Mrs. Deal explains. "In both arts, line, symmetry, balance, placement of voids and solids, and color harmony are important. Be guided by these principals and you can achieve something distinctive with a handful of weeds and grasses and a wooden chopping bowl."

In keeping with her theory that artistic flower arrangement should not depend on exotic flowers and accessories, Mrs. Deal will use ordinary garden flowers in her demonstration at the Sorosis club and the containers will be supplied by members of the club.

Winter Bouquets

Attractive "winter bouquets" will also feature native grasses, weeds, leaves, poppy and ogra pods, and other remnants from the garden.

In addition to lecturing in Missouri and Illinois, Mrs. Deal has conducted courses in flower arrangement in the adult education division of Washington University, and at the Missouri Botanical Garden.

Full color photographs of her arrangements have frequently been featured by the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, and they have appeared in national magazines, such as American Home, Flower Grower and Horticulture, and in the New York Herald-Tribune. Color photographs of her arrangements, taken by Morton May, Jr., of St. Louis, were exhibited widely at photographic salons all the way from New York to San Francisco.

Brown and Etchinson to Meet Tuesday

St. Joseph Wrestler Recently Returned From West Coast

WRESTLING SCHEDULE
Main Event
Orville Brown vs. Ronnie Etchinson
Wallace, Kas. St. Joseph, Mo.
2 falls out of 3, 30-minute time limit.
Semi-Windup
Ray Schwarz vs. Mickey Gold
Boston, Mass. New York City
2 falls out of 3, 45-minute time limit.
Special Event
Terry McGinnis vs. Joe Szabo
Los Angeles, Calif. Detroit, Mich.
1 fall with a 30-minute time limit.
Time: 8:30 p. m. Tuesday.
Place: State Guard Armory.
Referee: Charles Thomas, Columbia.

Ronnie Etchinson, St. Joseph, Mo., heavyweight who has appeared in the Sedalia wrestling ring several times in the past two years, is coming back this week. Etchinson is to meet Orville Brown, Wallace, Kas., a claimant to the heavyweight wrestling title, in the feature event on the Pettis County Post No. 16, American Legion, wrestling card.

Brown, who tipped the scales a little over twenty pounds more than his opponent Ray Schwarz, last Tuesday night, met with stiff competition. Gus Karras, matchmaker declares Etchinson is as good if not better than Schwarz since his return from the coast where he has been doing good in the wrestling business.

No doubt fans will get their money's worth when the semi-windup is staged. Schwarz is scheduled against Mickey Gold of New York City, N. Y. Both these men have made good showings in the two shows held at the armory already this season, and their qualifications are such they should put on a real match for the paying customers.

In the special event Terry McGinnis, Calif., makes his first appearance before the Sedalia fans meeting an old headliner of local shows from last season in Joe Szabo, Detroit, Mich., and East St. Louis. Szabo has always given the fans much entertainment in the wrestling line and if McGinnis has anything at all, the match should be good.

Matchmaker Karras is endeavoring to give the local fans the best in wrestling entertainment and this is being done by the type of wrestlers he has already brought here this year and has scheduled for this week.

Kansas Battles TCU To 0 to 0 Tie in K. C.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 21.—(P)—Exchanging fumbles and pass interceptions throughout the game, the Kansas Jayhawks and Texas Christian University Horned Frogs battled to a 0-0 tie in their opening contest of the year tonight.

Playing before a near capacity crowd of 20,405 cash customers, the Jayhawks and Horned Frogs ragged in the execution of their plays and neither team was able to gain scoring steam when they got near the goal line.

Kansas made two real scoring threats, reaching the Texas Christian 9-yard line after driving the opening kickoff 83-yards, and getting to the Texas' 12-yard stripe after a pass interception as the game ended. The first threat fizzled when halfback Bill Hogan fumbled and the Horned Frogs recovered.

Texas Christian bottled up Kansas great pre-war star, halfback Ray Evans, and the Frogs were able to make one serious scoring threat of their own, a 94-yard second half drive that ended on the Jayhawks one-yard line.

Working for the first time under coach George Sauer, the Jayhawks drive from the opening kickoff had all the earmarks of a touchdown drive. Dick Bertuzzi tucked in the kickoff on the 8-yard line and ran to the thirty and from that spot, with passes from Hogan to ends Dave Schmidt and Otto Schnellbacher clicking for yardage, the Jayhawks marched within nine yards of a score. Hogan pass to Schnellbacher was good for forty yards.

Athlete Charged With Statutory Offense

DETROIT, Sept. 21.—(P)—The star halfback of the University of Detroit football team, Guy Brown, 21-year-old Negro from Manhattan, Kas., was charged today with the rape of a white woman Aug. 28.

Inspector George Branton of the police homicide squad said Brown, recently named the university's "athlete of the year" in a poll by the school paper, would be questioned about another attack on a white woman Sept. 19 as well as the recent rape-slayings of two Detroit Negro women.

His arrest Friday, in connection with two alleged purse snatchings, came a few hours before the U. of D. opened its 1946 football season without him by defeating Wayne university 31-0.

Sport Scraps

By D. KELLY SCRUTON

I had my hopes built up to seeing Missouri sail through the 1946 football season in a blaze of glory. I've read all about what a whale of a team Missouri had and about this and that player. But after reading the story on the Texas-Missouri game 1—and I am not alone because we heard remarks made when the score was given to those who were anxious to learn the outcome—wonder what happened.

Nevertheless, a bad start may result in a flashy finish. There are a lot of Sedalians still pulling for the Tigers to come through in the Big Six.

The T. C. U.-Kansas game made it look better for Kansas than it does for Missouri. It ended in a deadlock 0 to 0.

GOLDEN GLOVES. It is something that I am not sure at the present time what is going to be done about the amateur fist art, but I have had many ask me in the past few days what Sedalia was going to do to revive the sport. Then too, I was told by several former Democrat-Capital champions they had "one-more-year" left and they wanted to fight this season.

Denver "Buck" Miller, a flyweight champion, and Cecil Landers, lightweight champion, both have been talking to some of the boys asking them to try it out one more time. Billy Smith is potential material for this year and he may join his fellow champions. Donald Smith, who fought here before the war was here not so long ago and indicated he wanted to put on the gloves.

There is plenty of room for more boys and these champions would like to start boxing over again and be of help to the youngsters just getting their start by training them.

If enough boys let us know they want boxing, we will endeavor to start a training program and a fight program for the 1946-47 season.

Well, there are twelve rattle snakes who hunters will not have to worry about, when they take their guns to hunt game this fall and winter down south of Sedalia. The reason: Billy Estes, 1215 South Carr, son of officer and Mrs. Lester Estes, 408 South Summit avenue, killed them last Sunday while hunting on his brother's farm, Marion Estes, one mile south and a mile east of Smithton.

Billy was sitting on an old log, when his sister, Mrs. Catherine Wright, and their nephew, Melvin Sewell, who stays with his grandparents Officer and Mrs. Estes, saw a snake stick his head out of a hole. They calmly told Estes what was there and he got up.

The log was rolled away and there were twelve rattlers from a foot and a half to three feet long winging around. All twelve were shot and killed.

Mrs. Wright, is the wife of George Wright now with the United States Army in Germany. She expects to join her husband there soon.

S-C Tigers Workouts Are Getting Harder

Little Information Is Out On Who Will Be In The First Lineup

Smith-Cotton high school Tigers are shaping up for the 1946 season, but little is said about any predictions on the outcome of any of the coming games by Coach Ralph "Stub" Dow. Bpt from the looks of the squad out for the first team, there is plenty of material which apparently is learning fairly fast.

Coach Dow when questioned about whose name can we use but that seems to be the best in practice brought this emphatic and brief remark, "Names," he said, "There are too many names to talk about now. I can't say much about names at present, the boys will first have to prove themselves, before I hardly will breathe a name."

At present it is a known fact Dow will resort to using lettermen from last year in his starting lineup of the first game, because those boys have the most experience. But there are a lot of boys out in practice who'll see action before the night is over, next Friday night. There isn't any doubt in the minds of those who have been talking to the coaches and even the players, that before the season gets too far gone, there will be a lot of new faces in the lineups.

Already practice has turned to real hard knocks. The boys are all nursing bruises received during these short ten days of workouts. Many of the other schools have more than two weeks of practice under their belts and are ready for action.

Friday night the Tigers meet the Kemper Military Academy under the lights at Liberty Park. Then they come back almost before they get a shower and the stiffness worked out to meet Marshall high school at Marshall, that's on Tuesday night October 1, and come back on Friday night October 4 to play St. Peter's at Jefferson City.

The Tigers are actually learning the hard way about football this year.

Cards 1 Game Lead Protected By Dickson

Pitches 5-Hit Ball And Scores The Winning Run, 2-1

By Jack Hand

CHICAGO, Sept. 21.—Z—Slender Murry Dickson protected the St. Louis Cardinals' one-game National League lead over the Brooklyn Dodgers today with a five-hit performance against the Chicago Cubs, 2-1, scoring the winning run after he opened a ninth inning rally with a single.

After waging violent warfare with the Cubs' Johnny Schmitz for eight innings, the lean native of Tracy, Mo., struck the blow that finally meant the ball game after two were out in the ninth. Lining a single past the veteran Billy Jurgess at shortstop, Dickson pounded home with the big run when Red Schoendienst doubled off the ivy-covered wall in left center.

One reason Manager Eddie Dyer had given Dickson the starting chance in the opener of the vital three-game set at Wrigley field was his ability to hit left handed pitching. He never made a better move as it all turned out. There was little reason to believe a game-winning rally was around the corner when the first Red Birds were victimized by Schmitz's sharp beaking stuff.

Dickson's poke turned the tide and when it was followed by Schoendienst's blow, his first hit in his last eight at bat, it assured the Card hurler of his 14th win to five defeats in the season series for the Birds over the Bruins, 12 to 5 with five to play. St. Louis had won the series from every club in the league and, if they missed the flag, it would be because the Dodgers could whip the Braves and Phillies more consistently.

With only seven games to play for each contender, St. Louis could lose a half game tomorrow because they are slated for a single game with the Cubs while Brooklyn plays two in Boston. Dyer announced he would send Howie Pollet, his ace, in search of his 21st victory against Hank Borowy the Cub choice.

'Muddy' Ruel Will Manage Browns

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 21.—(P)—Herold D. (Muddy) Ruel, a native St. Louisian, today signed a two-year contract to manage the St. Louis Browns, the club which he made his professional debut as catcher back in 1915.

In taking over the management of the Browns, effective next spring, Ruel will retire as assistant to A. B. (Happy) Chandler, baseball commissioner. His signing was made possible by the week that Chandler had given permission to President Richard Muckerman of the Browns to dicker with Ruel. The three held a conference at the commissioner's home in Versailles, Ky., Wednesday, at which most of the details were arranged.

Ruel, who is 50 years old, has had a notable career in the American League as catcher and coach. He gained his greatest fame with the Washington Senators where he was Walter Johnson's last battery mate. He was the Senators' first string catcher from 1923 to 1930.

Ruel served with the Chicago White Sox as coach of pitchers and assistant to Manager Jimmy Dykes. In his first managerial job, Ruel will succeed the veteran catcher and coach, Zach Taylor, who was appointed to manage the Browns on August 31, following the resignation of Luke Sewell, another former catcher. Under Sewell the Browns won their first American League pennant in 1944, dropped to third last year and were in seventh place when Sewell stepped out.

Ruel's salary was not disclosed, but it was reported he will receive $20,000 annually, plus a bonus based on home attendance each season.

Longhorns Give Tigers Grid Lesson

Missouri Suffers A Complete Disaster At Austin, Tex. 42-0

By Bo Byers

ANSTON, Tex., Sept. 21.—Capitalizing on the great passing of Bobby Layne and the burning speed of their other backfield stars, the Texas Longhorns routed the Missouri Tigers 42 to 0 before a crowd of 33,000 today.

For Texas it was almost a repeat performance of its game with the Tigers in the Cotton Bowl last New Year's Day, but for Missouri it was a complete disaster. On that day Texas scored 40 points, Missouri 27.

Layne, the fullback who usually ignites the scoring spark in the Longhorn attack, lived up to his reputation. Shortly after the initial kick-off he carried the Longhorns from the Texas 41 yard line to Missouri's ten on a couple of passes and an 11-yard dash. Then he took a lateral from left halfback Ralph Ellisworth to slant across in the right hand corner for the first touchdown. Frank Guess, subbing for Layne, converted.

The Longhorns rolled up 200 yards rushing to the Tigers' 139. Passing netted 160 yards for Texas, Layne accounting for 126 yards with three completions in five attempts. Missouri gained 73 yards by the air route, but suffered heavy losses as the Longhorns intercepted five passes for returns totaling 105 yards.

Ellisworth, leading Longhorn ground game of the afternoon, squeezed through a brief opening in the left side of the line, ducked under one tackler and outran three more on a 64-yard gallop in the second period for another touchdown. Guess converted.

A Tiger pass boomeranged three plays later when Dick Harris, Longhorn center, intercepted a pass by Medill Gartiser on Missouri's 45 and went for a touchdown without a hand being laid on him. Guess' try for extra point was wild.

Jimmy Canady, Texas right halfback, renewed the touchdown parade the first time his team gained possession of the ball in the third quarter.

Layne Heaves Ball
On third down with the ball on Texas' 19, Layne heaved the ball to Canady, who snagged it on the Missouri 40 and ran away from two would-be tacklers. The play covered 21 yards. Guess drilled his third extra point.

Guess entered the touchdown department when he returned a punt 51 yards. He added another conversion attempt.

The Longhorns added two more points when Don O'Hara, substitute Tiger quarterback, was tackled behind his goal line by Roger Evans, substitute back.

Tommy Landry, substitute Texas fullback, completed the scoring on a fake pass-and-run play, good for 30 yards.

"The New Intangible Tax Not Understood"
 I have been asked by so many citizens about the new Intangible Tax law that I decided to make a study of same and inform myself as completely as possible. This I have done and as space does not permit this to be reduced to a printed notice, I wish to state I will be glad to make explanation to all those desiring same that will be affected by this new tax. Suffice to say this must be filed and paid before November 1, and the penalties are rather severe for failing to do same.

Milk Products Still Free Of Price Control

Watch Will Be Maintained By Board On Levels

By Edwin B. Haakinson
WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—(AP)—Milk and its by-products won another parole from price ceilings Friday but the decontrol board warned it will keep a close watch on future price trends of butter and cheese.

After three days of discussion the powerful new independent board announced briefly that it "would not return dairy products to price control at this time."

Chairman Roy L. Thompson said evidence before the three-member panel indicates that dairy "prices are approaching a critical point" but failed to "provide sufficient grounds for action by the board at this time."

The decision was another set back for OPA Administrator Paul Porter who had told the board that immediate recontrol of all dairy products "is essential to the Stabilization program."

Key On Watch
Thompson announced that the board will continue to watch the price levels of "certain segments of the dairy industry."

"As this information is received, we will be kept in a position to consider whether any action is necessary by the board in the future," he said.

In calling for evidence to be sent in before its session on Wednesday of this week, the board had directed attention particularly to prices of cheese and butter.

Recalling the August 20 decision that allowed milk and its products to remain free from price controls, Thompson reminded that the board said then it would continue to "watch the prices of dairy products and subject them to control if they rose unreasonably."

"I want to make it plain that it is still our intention to do just that," he said today. "We consider it our continuing responsibility as long as the price control act is in operation, to see that reasonable prices are maintained on dairy products, in the public interest."

Here Looking After Estate

Keith Guenther and his mother, Mrs. G. A. Guenther of Collinsville, Okla., were guests the past week at the Bothwell hotel.

Mr. Guenther, a nephew of the late Miss Bertha Marie Guenther, who was ill at the Mercy hospital in Tulsa, Okla., at the time of his aunt's death, was here assisting in the settling of Miss Guenther's estate.

Mrs. Guenther was joined in Sedalia by her sister, Mrs. John M. Townley, of Miami Beach, Fla., who came here from Kansas City and was also a guest at the Bothwell hotel. The sisters, the former Miss Pink and Miss Lillie Enloe, members of a well known family of central Missouri, are visiting relatives and friends in Versailles. Mrs. Townley will visit in Missouri, Oklahoma and Atlanta, Ga., and will return to Florida early in the winter.

Father Of 8—Who Had Been In Service Dies

JUNCTION CITY, Kas., Sept. 21.—(AP)—John H. Jansen, 70, father of eight sons who served in the armed forces during World War II, died here Friday of a heart attack.

A reunion of the Jansen sons with their father last Christmas attracted nationwide attention. With six sons then still in the service, Jansen appealed to the adjutant general of the army to arrange furloughs so he could bring his family together one more time.

Seven of the sons were here for the reunion, their first in 15 years, and the eighth arrived a few days later.

Only one son now is in the service—Lt. R. T. Jansen, with occupation forces in Germany.

Find Stolen Car
Police Officers Neitzert and White, in making their early morning rounds Saturday, noted a car parked under some trees just south south of the Missouri-Kansas-Texas railroad overpass on Highway 65. Investigating they found it was a 1935 Plymouth coupe, stolen from Hannibal, Mo., on Wednesday, September 18.

The car was towed to police headquarters, where it is being held, pending the arrival of its owner.

Prospects for Thanksgiving Turkey Good

CHICAGO, Sept. 21.—(AP)—Thanksgiving's turkey is already well on its way to the nation's dining table, and prospects are for better supplies at lower prices than ever before.

That is, prices will be lower unless other kinds of meat are so scarce poultry becomes in unusually greater demand.

Production of turkeys was stepped up to record heights during wartime to augment other meats drained off to the military forces. A government crop report estimates production this fall will be down about 9 per cent from 1945, peak, but there still will be more than ever available for the public.

High Storage Stocks
The reason is that storage stocks have been at their highest point in history this summer, while military needs have been cut drastically. This leaves the oversupply and the current season's near-record crop almost entirely to the tender talents of the housewives. Turkeys have an extremely high mortality rate when young; they must even be taught to eat and drink. Marketing is hazardous because of shifts in public taste. Price changes in relation to other poultry and meat may send an end-fire crop onto the scales at a loss. The industry began before the discovery of America. Early Mexicans worshipped and partially domesticated the turkey, built solid gold, life-size statues to it.
